

THE DAIRYMAIDS.

AUDIENCE AND PROGRAMME OF LAST EVENING.

A Large Concourse of People Present—What Was to Be Seen—The Entertainment to Be Given To-night.

The attendance at the festival last evening was considerably larger than on the preceding one, and the nickels, bits and two-bit pieces were scattered at the booths in a much more lively manner. A very pleasant programme, which follows in full, was enjoyed by the guests present. The drill by the "Little Butter-pats" on the stage, under charge of Miss Bosbyshell, was a neat and entertaining spectacle, the little ones acquitting themselves very prettily. The tableau, "Dews of the Evening," was fine in its scenic effects. An opinion of Sherman's "Illusions" was given yesterday, and it only need be said that those who miss these are the losers, as no similar exhibition has ever been known here. The tableau and dissolving illusions of the cross were exceedingly beautiful. During this, Mrs. Fanning sang "Rock of Ages" behind the scenes, adding much to the effect.

PART I.
Overture, "Pique Dame" (Suppe).
Grand Tableau—Every Cloud has a Silver Lining.
Chorus—"A Dairy Maid Am I."
Chorus of Banners.
Chorus of Binders.
Chorus of Gleaners.
Grand Chorus.
Drill.

PART II.
Waltz—"Pantaleon" (Waldteufel).
Tableau—"Dews of Evening."
Revolving Illusionary Tableau—Dairymaids, peasant lads, loe queen and nymphs, three little maids, introducing the effect of tableau disappearing while in motion.
Tableau—"Milkmaid" (Gullivan).
Tableau, Allegorical Illusion—"War." Miss Mary Bosbyshell; "Peace," Miss Blanche Bontwell; "Liberty," Miss Edna Davis; "Star Spangled Banner" and chorus, by lady.
Mythological Illusion—Dissolving living statues; twenty-four different statues, introducing starting effect of Sappho walking out on full stage and disappearing from view. (Appropriate scenic effects.)

Dance—"Spanish" (Mozzart).
Tableau—"About Ben Adhem" (in two parts).
Tableau—"Volunteers" (Strauss).
Scriptural Dissolving Illusion—"Early at the Cross," into "Part of the Faith," "Early at the Cross," into "Simply to Thy Cross I Cling." "Rock of Ages." Characters by Miss Jessie Jordan, Frances Wheeler, Madge Connell, Bernice Taylor, Mrs. H. C. Deane, Miss Irene Hollinger. Song, "Rock of Ages," by Mrs. F. B. Fanning and quartette.
Some articles have been lost at the Pavilion. All such should be reported at the Dairymaids' Home, and all inquiries for lost articles be made there.

The ladies will continue their noon lunch today. Yesterday they could not supply all orders, but will be prepared to do so hereafter.

An additional attraction to be constructed will be the prismatic fountain, for which calcium lights arrived from San Francisco yesterday. The matinee of Saturday is to be for ladies and children especially, and a large attendance is expected. The maids and lads are selling their stools, butter-pats, sashes and neckties, as they expect to go into other business than dairymaids, and will deliver their goods at the end of the week. Many of the stools are works of art, hand-painted and Kensington work. The sugar booth was dispensing hot maple sugar on ice last night, and tonight will probably have a table for the accommodation of patrons. A cloakroom will also be provided to meet inquiries for such a convenience. Inquiries at the booths elicited the fact that considerable money is being left by visitors, and it is probable that the audience will continue to increase as the attractions become known. The following will be the programme for this evening, beginning promptly at 8 o'clock:

PART I.
Tableau—"Coming Through the Rye."
Dairymaids' Chorus—"Alpine Waltz Song."
Male Chorus—"With Step Firm and Steady."
Chorus—"Toss a Line."
Grand Chorus—"Take Up the Hay."
Drill.

PART II.
Tableau—"Under the Snow" (with snow-storm).
Tableau, two parts—"About Ben Adhem," occurrence, in costume of Mr. LOUIS HUNZ. Overture—"Die Schone Galathea" (Suppe).
Waltz—"Dairymaids" (Faust).
Solo for Piccolo, "Warbler" (Oex)—Mr. Louis Huns.
Selection, "La Belle Helene" (Offenbach).
Galop, "De Concert" (Strauss).

DEAD ON THE MOUNTAINS.

Joseph Moore Dies of Exposure on the Tejujunga.
Joseph Moore and William Moore are old and well-known citizens of Los Angeles. Joseph has been missing for several days. He left home four or five days ago to go up into the mountains in search of land. As he failed to return, his brother became anxious and organized a searching party, which has been scouring the country. Yesterday the searchers found the lost man on top of the Tejujunga Mountains, dead. He has been subject to epileptic attacks, and is supposed to have fallen in one and died from exposure. Coroner Meredith was notified, and will hold an inquest today. Deceased was about 50 years of age.

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

A Charge Preferred Against a Contractor.
Mr. M. V. Wright, agent of the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, swore out a warrant last evening for the arrest of D. F. Donegan, the contractor, who is grading the courthouse site, on a charge of cruelty to some of his team animals there employed. Dr. Boal went to see Donegan about the condition of the mules, and received a profane reception for his pains. The man will be brought into court this morning to plead to the charge.

Mr. Wright has another warrant for one of Donegan's employees on a charge of beating a mule with a chain, but the fellow has made himself scarce, and is not to be found.

The Raymond.

The fact that the mammoth Raymond Hotel closed for the season on Tuesday has been already noted. This morning a carload of the pretty New England water girls, who have been such a popular feature of the hotel, start for their eastern homes; and another carload tomorrow morning. They will be back in the fall. Manager C. H. Merrill will not start East until next Tuesday, when he will return to the popular Crawford House, White Mountains. Walter Raymond goes up to San Francisco tomorrow to make arrangements for next fall's excursions. Mr. Raymond states that hereafter he will get the butter, eggs and other supplies used in the hotel direct from Kansas City.

Should Not Be Granted.

City Clerk Teed has had two applications for licenses to reopen the notorious schooner joint on Aliso street, so summarily closed on Saturday night. One of the applications was from Jennie, the man who was running the dive when the disgraceful row occurred, in which Officer Bulo was battered. The Clerk has not authority to issue such licenses from the Police Commissioners, so it is probable that the enterprising applicants will wait some time for legal consent.

People's Store.
We expect the largest business of this week today, inasmuch as our special sale of such nature as to warrant it. It is based on the value which is when we speak of an article through the press, no matter what we may in reference thereto, but, to satisfy ourselves, it is necessary to inspect those, and we are positive you will find each to be what we represent.

Our first specialty is a line of dress goods at 10c a yard. It is useless for us to discourse at length upon them, for you are well aware no sort of dress goods, no matter how poor, can be sold at this price. We make special mention of this line, as they are "extraordinary values." For instance, one grade is sold at 30c a yard. If a diagonal, two-toned fancy, in all the new shades; another is a broad all-fancy wool filling, in the new shades of gray, never sold for less than 30c, and others equally desirable.

Our second is a 64-inch embroidered flanneling at 50c. From the inquiries made today about them we expect an immediate row to doubt you have often purchased these goods and are aware that their value is more than twice the price asked.

Our third is in the domestic department. We will offer Lonsdale bleached 4-4 muslin at 6c a yard. The price is known all over the world. Our fourth is in the ladies' line, lacrimated nightgowns at 30c each. This is as great a bargain as has ever been offered, and worth the price.

Our fifth is a pair of elegant lace pillow shams. We sell them in pairs only at 25c a pair, just the price of a single one.

Our sixth will be had in the genuine C. P. French corset. This is no imitation—the real goods—at 50c a pair, and sold all over at 75c. Our seventh is a ladies' line, lacrimated nightgowns at 30c each. This is as great a bargain as has ever been offered, and worth the price.

Our eighth is child's lace bonnet at 10c each. It is trimmed with two rows of lace insertion and a ruffling around the edge and is worth 25c.

Our ninth is a ladies' striped or solid colored hose at 50c a pair; the same goods we sell at 12 1/2c.

Our tenth is a line of bargains in our shoe department. Just look at them. Ladies' genuine French kid button shoes at $2.75. These goods are worth $4. Ladies' Curacao kid shoes, hand-turned soles, $2.50; worth $3.50.

Infants' French kid button shoes at 30c.

We desire to call attention to our remnant sale, which is to take place tomorrow. Those who pass our store today will see a portion of the goods displayed in the window. They comprise mostly silks, satins and the very finest of dress goods, in lengths of a yard or 10 yards. The prices at which these goods are marked will cause a speedy clearance. People's Store.

Marquette, the Model City.
There are a great many questions that investors in new towns should consider. Are the owners merely putting acres into rows to realize a higher price for the land, expecting to step out when this is done, and to let the town take care of itself? The founder of Marquette, the model town, on the highlands, near Ontario, Mr. Fraser, is quietly putting his own money into fine and permanent improvements in the place. He is building a fine residence, store buildings, hotel, livery stable. An abundant supply of pure water is piped through the streets. The fact that Mr. Fraser's interests are linked with that of the town makes its success assured. The price will be put at a low figure and bonus for choice will be put into solid improvements in the town, etc. Date of sale will be announced in a few days. Particulars of Wessendanger & Bonnell.

The founder of Marquette, the Model Town, on the highlands, near Ontario, is quietly putting his own money into permanent improvements, and investors ought to know that this means success. Marquette is not to be a mere paper town.

Money Is No Object.

The lives of your children are of priceless value. Every child is subject to sudden attacks of bowel complaint during the summer months. It is always alarming and often fatal. The only rational plan is to be provided at all times with the safest and surest remedy, and promptly treat the disorder in its first stages, and before the vitality becomes exhausted. Unexpected delays so often occur in sending for a physician or medicine, especially during the night or from a distance, that no one can afford to risk such uncertainties when life depends upon promptness. Keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy at hand for instant use. It is made for bowel complaint only and is unquestionably the most reliable medicine ever brought into general use. The price is no object compared with its value in saving life. Sold by C. H. Hance, 77 and 79 North Spring street.

For fear of losing a day's work, many persons put off taking physic until Saturday. The better plan is to take it as soon as needed; it may save you a hard spell of sickness. If you want the most benefit from the least amount of physic, without causing you any inconvenience, loss of appetite or rest, take St. Patrick's Pills. Their action on the liver and bowels is thorough. They give a freshness, tone and vigor to the whole system, and act in harmony with nature. Sold by C. H. Hance, 77 and 79 North Spring street.

CATARRH!

THROAT DISEASES, BRONCHITIS,

CONSUMPTION,

Together with diseases of the

EYE, EAR AND HEART,

Successfully treated by

M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M.D.,

M. C. P. S. O.,

No. 275 North Main Street,

A few doors south of the new postoffice, Los Angeles, Cal.

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED.

This has been demonstrated in thousands of cases treated by

DR. WILLIAMS,

With his new system of Medicated Inhalations combined with proper constitutional remedies for the liver, stomach, blood, etc.

Probably no system of practice ever adopted has been so universally successful as that introduced by Dr. Williams for the cure of Catarrh, Throat Diseases, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

CATARRH.

Catarrh is often regarded by the patient as a cold in the head, and he often expresses his astonishment at his remarkable tendency to contract a fresh cold; indeed, he declares that he is scarcely free from one cold before he takes another, and yet he is always exceedingly careful; it is also a matter of surprise to him that the cold always seems to settle in the head and throat.

At times many of the symptoms of Catarrh may seem to abate, and the patient is led to hope that the disease is about to wear off; but another class of symptoms soon appears, and he learns to his horror that instead of recovery from the disease, it is somewhat changed in its character and has extended to the throat. A sense of weariness is sometimes felt in the chest, or it appears that some foreign substance, as, for instance, a hair, obstructs the throat; there becomes a sense of languor and fatigue, the breath lessons upon a little exertion, these and other symptoms occur after the disease has made considerable progress. Then it is a time when consumption is about to begin its dreadful work. Up to this time the progress of the disease may have been slow, and the patient may, in expressing his confident hope that it will "wear off," declare that he has had the catarrh for years, and has not seemed to become much worse, and trusts that he will "by-and-by" recover. But this delusion is the grand error which has peopled our cemeteries with consumption forms, at all forms of catarrh end finally in consumption.

Inhalations are applicable in all diseases of the respiratory organs, but must be prepared for each individual case as they severally require.

By the employment of proper inhalation in the form of medicated vapor (not steam or spray) we are able to reduce immediately and direct action upon the diseased surface in the pharynx and nasal passages, for air will find its way into the most remote and intricate cavities, where it is utterly impossible to make fluid applications. By these means every case can be cured.

Persons desiring treatment by this system of practice can use the remedies at home as well as at our office, and which will cause no inconvenience or hindrance to business whatever.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless unless both lungs are seriously involved. Even then the inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucus and in contracting and healing the cavities, which nothing else can do with the same success.

The very best references from those already cured.

CONSULTATION FREE.

Those who desire to consult with me in regard to their cases had better call at the office for consultation and examination, but if impossible to do so can write for a copy of my Medical Treatise, containing a list of questions. Address,

THE COUNTY JAIL.

JAILOR MANNON'S POPULAR BOARDING HOUSE.

A Description of the Inside Arrangements—How the Prisoners Live—Names and Offenses of the Present Inmates.

There are a good many persons who have never been in jail. The number who have been inside such a building, either voluntarily or involuntarily, is comparatively a small part of a busy population, and a still smaller number have ever seen the inside of our County Jail. And yet there are many who often wonder what such an institution looks like in the interior, and may to themselves, "Some time I'm going to see." Human nature is peculiar in its inquired and actions, and yet everywhere much the same in some respects.

A TIMES reporter yesterday took it into his head to look through the fine large brick building on the hill, and with which the eyes of citizens are familiar. Acting on this resolution, he climbed the hill and entered the vestibule, but found further ingress intercepted by a door composed of iron rods about three-eighths of an inch in diameter, run perpendicularly through strong iron bars. This was secured by a strong lock, and the way of the reporter was blocked. But it is his business to go through things, so a few bars caused no dismay.

A call brought into view the cheerful countenance of Jailer George Mannon, and when the reporter introduced himself the heavy door was swung back, and he was cordially invited to enter without a request for the papers of commitment which are often required. Mr. Mannon very kindly consented to show the visitor of the inside of the jail. Passing the first door one finds himself in the hallway, from which a broad, iron stairway leads to the upper story. The floor is paved with artificial stone blocks, and with the walls shows solidity and strength. On the left of this hallway is the cell for condemned prisoners—that is, condemned to death—and on the right is another large cell. Passing through a heavy iron door one finds himself in a large hall-like apartment running across the building, and used as a kind of general sitting-room. Right underneath this is the kitchen, with all the necessary appliances in the way of ranges, boilers and ovens for cooking for one or two hundred persons. Everything looks neat and clean under the supervision of the "trustee" cooks, a "trustee" being a prisoner given more or less liberty on his good behavior.

Beyond this hall are the two tiers of iron cells. These are constructed of bar-iron, crossing at right angles, and leaving small interstices. They are in the first and second stories, and are built around a large court-like space in the center, into which they open, and this space is again closed by a large lattice iron door, like the cells. There is a passageway all around the outside of these cages, in which a guard can walk. Connected with these cells are sinks, bathtubs, water-closets, and all appurtenances necessary for thorough cleanliness. The arrangement for locking the cells is such as to give the jailer every advantage in the way of safety. He can stand on the outside of the court space in which the prisoners take exercise, and look and unlock every cell by simply pulling a lever inclined in a box on the wall. After locking the cell, the prisoner in this movement, the jailer has padlocks, so that he can go in and lock any number of cells that he pleases, and then unlock the others. The box containing the lever is locked by a large key, and also by a combination lock, and then, in addition to all this, there is a separate mechanism for doing the same work. It is intended to give the keeper full control of the prisoners with safety to himself. In the upper story is a second tier of cells and the hospital apartment, the female apartment, and the front rooms, very pleasantly furnished, occupied by Jailer Mannon and his family.

These cells will accommodate four prisoners each, and the jail, if filled to its greatest capacity, will hold nearly 300 persons. The prisoners have a regular routine every day. Mr. Mannon's policy is to treat them like human beings, and to show them all kindness consistent with strict safety. At 7 o'clock breakfast is served in the cells. They are released from their cells from about 8:30 a. m. till 3 p. m., when they are again locked up for dinner, and from 4 p. m. to 9 p. m. they are again free from close confinement. There are several "trustees" employed, and Joe Meyer, the man who prevented a wholesale delivery a few weeks ago, has general oversight, and Mr. Mannon says he finds him a very faithful attendant. There were yesterday eighty-three prisoners in the jail held under various orders. Those who have had their trials, and been sentenced and committed to serve it out, are given liberty with the offense and date of commitment. Following come those who are held to answer to the Superior Courts, with the amount of bail which is required in order to secure liberty until that appearance, and lastly, those who are held on orders or warrants.

During the month of May 26 prisoners have been discharged from custody who were acquitted on trial, or let off with reprimand, or paid their fines at time of sentence.

Sixty-three have been discharged, and have been sentenced and committed, and who have since paid their fines, served their time or been removed elsewhere. Standing in such a place as this prison is, a free man is impressed by a great variety of feelings—pity, sorrow and disgust are commingled, and one cannot help hoping that there may come a "sometime" when such things will be far less needed in our fair land.

culty of finding a location for a town so beautiful, such pure and bracing air, and smooth, rich lands as characterizes Hyde Park. This splendid tract is located on the line of the Californian Central, of the A. T. & S. F. system, which is to connect Los Angeles with the new harbor at La Balfona, and is distant 7 1/2 miles from the center of the city; a midway town between the city and the harbor. Trains are to be running through the tract by July next when great business activity all along the line will be the order of the day. Liberal-sized lots, 50x150 feet, fronting on sixty-foot avenues, are offered and being taken rapidly at $100 each; $40 cash,

VERDICT OF NOT GUILTY in the Case of Blue-blooded Boulligny. EL PASO (Tex.), May 27.—[By the Associated Press.] The case of the State against Edgar Boulligny, of New Orleans, for killing Alfred Kennard, a negro barber, on the 5th of May, in front of the Vendome Hotel in this city, was terminated before midnight last night. Boulligny's grandfather was Colonial Governor of Louisiana during the Revolution and Empire, at the time of President Jefferson's Administration, and his father was a former member of Congress and a brother now fills a place in the Louisiana Supreme Court. The case was given to the jury and before midnight they came into the courtroom with a verdict of "not guilty."

PHILADELPHIA, May 27.—[By the Associated Press.] At today's session of the general council of the Reformed Episcopal Church the following standing resolutions were reported from the Committee on Constitution and Canons and adopted: "First, that the Reformed Episcopal Church recognizes adultery as the only scriptural ground for divorce. "Third, that nothing in these resolutions forbids the remarriage of former husband and wife."

DESTRUCTIVE FLAMES.

Farther Account of the Great Fire.

NEW YORK, May 27.—[By the Associated Press.] Over seventy-five tenement houses were destroyed in last night's fire. It is now believed there has been a heavy loss of life. The car company lost over 1600 horses in the stable. The total loss is now estimated at $1,325,000. The fire raged from 1:30 o'clock till daylight. The sun rose on a scene of desolation, but with the tired firemen masters of the situation. The bodies of 1900 horses were roasting in the ruins of the stables. More than 100 families, mostly very poor people, are homeless and destitute. A number of people have been reported by heat. Men, women and children wandered all night aimlessly over the ruins of their wrecked homes. The insurance will be less than $500,000.

Singular Accident.

OGDEN (Utah), May 27.—Today there were horse races at Hot Springs, a few miles from Ogden. Toward the close of the races this afternoon a horse ridden by a little boy named Chandler, whose parents reside in this city, after passing the winning post ran into a farm wagon and was killed. The wagon brake was set and the boy was caught on the foot-lever, which projects a few inches. The iron penetrated his head, and the horse continued its career, leaving the boy dangling in mid air. He was quickly removed from his fearful position by bystanders. It is unknown, as yet, whether the injuries will prove fatal.
